

12 August 1984

NICARAGUA/U.S. PALMER: Nicaraguan leader Daniel Ortega today called the U.S. naval fleet off Central America's Pacific coast, an invasion threat and said the U.S. policy of combining peace talks with military pressure is contradictory. And in an earlier interview with The Washington Post, Ortega charged the CIA is planning to assassinate one or more of Nicaragua's nine-member governing council.